

Polynomials on vector lattices and Banach lattices

We will start with motivation from the study of orthosymmetric maps, then move to the definition of multilinear maps and positive tensor products, while eventually turning to polynomials, powers of vector lattices, and Banach lattices. We will finish the talk with open questions.