

Abstract: In this talk, we define what we call an SR-graph and apply it to studying primitivity of group algebras, which is a generalization of the method constructed by Formanek. This is a joint work with James Alexander (University of Delaware).